Commuter COMPASS

Real Estate Search for People Who Drive to Work

For most people, a key factor in where they decide to live is where they work. Commuter Compass® provides your users with the information they need to make the tradeoffs between living space, price, and travel time intelligently.

Generates Leads

This unique tool will make your site more attractive to buyers. It captures buyer preferences which can feed into your lead management systems.

Integrates With Your Website

Commuter Compass easily integrates with your website's IDX search function as well as information on towns you cover.

Key Features

- Select up to two commute destinations (i.e. workplaces) and desired commute distances
- Search by property type, bedrooms, and price range
- Shows all towns that meet requirements with key market indicators
- Map display linked to tabular market data
- Detailed information on each town including drive time to work, sale and listing statistics, and school ratings
